GRAINS AND PROVISIONS CHOOSE THE DOWNWARD ROAD.

Liquidation Runs Rampant Among Holder and the Day's News Items are of Little Buoyancy-English Markets Weak, With an Increase of theks-Corn Opens Weak and Grows Weaker-Oats Carries a Heavy Business, Makes a Low Price Record. But Reacts Just at Closing-Provisions Weak, Inside and Out.

Chicago, Jan. 21.-It was a sad for the bulls in the board of trade markets. Wheat broke on a general liqudation and closed 1% cents lower for May. The other markets joined the procession and wound up 1% cents lower for May corn, I cent lower for May oats, and lower all around for provisions.

Wheat opened fairly active at baut Saturday's closing prices. May sold at from 5714 cents to 5714@57% cents, and July at from 58 cents to 58% cents. Those prices were scarcely recorded then the market began to break, and although during the decline of % cent weights which occurred in the first hour, there were two or three temporary rallies of is cent, the selling on each of those slight reactions was very confidently renewed and kept up until May was a consequence and kept up until May was a consequence today and as a consequence, the feeling was firm in spite of a rather light demand. Sheep were salable at $2.00 (3.35) for poor to extra and the range of questions for lambs was $2.7564.50 though the medium of the Associated Press dispatches that the United States supreme court had decided the Sugar Trust case in favor of the trust. There had been buying in the stock during the facey quality was quoted as high as $4.00 morning in anticipation of the rendering of a favorable decision and when the fact was established there was a an hour from the opening. The English markets were weak. Liverpool stocks of wheat increased 185,000 bushels during last week. The decrease in the visible supply was only 1,029,000 to and the amount on ocean passage beshwing an increase of 920,000 bushels, coming known about the same time and the selling was renewed with the result that another small fraction was knocked off the previous lowest price. At 57% cents and 58% cents, a good lot of short wheat was covered and more was wanted than was for sale. The market became weaker again about an hour from the close and 57 cents became the an hour from the opening. The English markets were weak. Liverpool wanted than was for sale. The market became weaker again about an hour from the close and 57 cents became the wanted than was for sale. The market became weaker again about an hour from the close and 57 cents became the general trading price for some time with sales down to 56% cents and at those prices a vast amount changed hands. Short sellers had by this time digmessed all inclusive for each other. dismissed all jealousy for each other and in another half hour the price was 56% cents. The decline continued up to the close, the selling becoming more and more urgent as the session advanced. May reacted but 14 cent from the lowest figures of the day, finishing Market steady. Corn was easier at the opening and mave corn for sule and that being taken as representing wheat bought in the country, it weakened general sentiment and with the heavy feeling in the other grain markets acting and reacting uncountry. each other, corn in the end shared in the general smash. Near the close, May which closed on Saturday at 47% cents and also touched that this morning was down to 45% cents. General liquida-tion was the order among the holders and it came with a rush during the las forty minutes of the session. May clos ed at 4514 cents.

A heavy business was transacted in outs and the direction the market pur-sued was in no manner an exception to the general course of all the makets on the floor. Liquidation seemed to be the general cause of the decline. There occurred a slight rally at the end and 2014, cents was the closing price after paying had a range of from 30% cents o 20% cents. The last mentioned price is thus far the lowest point of the crop ad 11% cents under Saturday's closing station which was at that time the isions were weak in sympathy vilib the grain markets. The holders also had grief of their own in the continued heavy hog receipts and free selling of product by packers. The close was the lowest prices of the day with May pork 35 cents lower, lard 12½ cents lower and ribs 15 cents lower.

MEXICAN SECRET SERVICE.

It Keeps an Eye on the Affairs of Publi and Private Men.

The secret service of the French re public is generally considered to be th most perfect spy system in the world, said a traveling man of St. Louis, but in my humble opinion the department of private intelligence supported by Mexico surpasses it both in extent and intricacy. A couple of years ago I was accidentally permitted to get an insight into its workings, and I was astounded. One would imagine that a great private detective agency would be a necessity only in a country like Russia, where the life of the ruler is constantly threatened, but down in Mexico there is a system of espionage that extends to every part of it. The motives of every public man in Mexico are not only perfectly well known to the government, but every visitor is subject to scrutiny. It was President Diaz who first established the chain of secreey that now holds all the people in its links. Every now and then one will be surprised to see a body of Mexican troops hurried off to some remote place in a far-off state. None will know the reason, but the fact will soon become known that the government has prevented an embryo revolution from gaining strength and force. A considerable number of Americans residing in Mexico do so because the law will make it unpleasant for them in their native places. The Mexican secret service has the private record of each of these, and if any of them show too much activity in Mexican affairs there is an arrest; the United States author-

All Grades of Cattle Higher.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Higher prices were paid for all grades of cattle. The advance in butchers stuff was not very market, but fair to choice steers sold anywhere from 19620 cents higher than on the losing days of last week. The firmer feeling was brought about by small receipts. There was a fair demand from all sources and the bulk of the offerings had been dispersed of by midday on a basis of $2.756.50 for common to extra cows and bulls, and $3.756.50 for common to fancy dressed beef and shipping steers.

The changes in the hog market were unimportant. The receipts fully equalled expectations in point of numbers and they were not below the average of recent. Moreavs in quality. The best of the havy weights brought $4.456.450 and prime light sold around $4.15. The range at which mest of the business was done, however, was $4.2564.40 for averages of over 200 pounds and $3.9564.19 for lighter weights.

The sheep ard lamb receipts were very moderate today and as a consequence. the fact was established there was a coalers were most seriously affected, there being an additional incentive to sell these stocks in the rumored trouble in the coal combine. Speculation continued weak to the close and the final sales show loses on the day ranging from ½ to 2½ per cent, the latted in Delaware and Hudson, 2½ per cent in New Jersey Central, and 2 per cent in Delaware and Lackawanna. Lake Shore gained 2 per cent. The exception to the general list, Distilling, closed ½ per cent higher than Saturday's ed 1/4 per cent higher than Saturday's ing the morning but in the late session a firmer tone market the trading and there was a slight increase in the deal-ings. Total sales, however, only aggregated $673,000.

DRY GOODS MARKET. New York, Jan. 21.—Very moist weather having prevailed, the demand was very irregular, nevertheless fairly good sales were reported through spot buyers, that were considerably increased through mail orders for varying assortments of staples and specificies. Notwithstanding the quietude, the sellers and buyers teel confident of a grod season's business. Printing cloths were steady at 2½ cents bid and declined.

HOW SOAP CLEANSES.

Chemical Properties Which Operate in the Removal of Dirt.

Most persons have very indistinct in removing dirt. This is not so simple matter as it may seem, for even chemists have been more or less puz-zled by it; although there is now subthe explanations of the cleansing action of soap is due to a suggestion in which German women regard one made by no less famous a man of another. It is a state of affairs which It is generally considered that the effieacy of soap depends mainly upon its decomposition, when it is mixed with water, into an akali and a fatty acid.

The alkali thus set free dissolves the grease by which the dirt is attached to the surface to be cleaned, and the water then carries the dirt off. But this is not all; the fatty acid from the soap neutralizes any free alkali remaining after the loosening of the dirt, and thus prevents the alkali from to steady until 11:30 when a reaction set attacking the cleansed surface itself. This is very important when soap is applied to the skin, and the painful effects produced by some varieties of soap are due to the fact that they possess an excess of free alkali, more than the fatty acids can neutralize.

But there are other factors concerned in the action of soap. Its cohesive power,upon which the formation of soan bubbles and lather depends, enables it to gather up the dirt as it is loosened by the alkali. Then, too, the process is assisted by the curious property which soap possesses of producing a great agitation among solid particles suspended in water.

This, of course, tends to the ready removal of the dirt after it has been detached from the surface, and it is this action that Prof. Jevons has pointed out as being one of the elements of the cleansing power of soap. -Youth's Companion.

WOMEN OF GERMANY. Their Condition Described as Being Great ly Degraded.

The position of women in Germany is one which may well awaken a feeling akin to despair in the heart of the social reformer. In no country in Europe, except perhaps Turkey, is the general condition of women so degraded, and in no country, it may be safely said, does she acquiesce so tamely in her degradation. The Empress Frederic, to her honor be it recorded, made heroic efforts to raise the status of women in the upper classes of society and endeavored to insist that more deference should be paid them, and that their intellectual and social quality should be recognized. How far she would have succeeded had the brief reign of 100 days been prolonged it is impossible to say. The immediate result was that the "Englishwoman" got herself cordially disliked, and strangely enough, some of her cruelest detractors were among the sex whom she had striven to emancipate. In the direction of the higher education of vomen the efforts of the Empress Frederic have borne some fruit. This is evidenced by the recent triumphs of women at the University of Heidelberg and by the institutions which been founded for their benefit in Saxony and Bavaria. But the movement has only touched a small section even there. Even in the highest circles of German society woman is regarded from the barbarian point of view. The wives of the majority of the German nobility are mere housewives, upper servants, whose duty it is to look after the material comforts of their lords and equal or a companion, but a mere housekeeper and producer of children. Her "sphere" is the kitchen and the nursery, and there she must abide. Mme. ideas of the manner in which soap acts | de Stael once asked Napoleon who was the greatest woman in the world? He replied brutally: "The woman who has borne and reared the greatest number of male children." This frame of mind stantial agreement among them as to exactly expresses the light in which the chemistry of the process. One of most German husbands regard their wives, and, it may be added, the view another. It is a state of affairs which science than Prof. W. Stanley Jevons. brings its own punishment, for the women are often so unendurably dull and soulless that the men are driven for companionship to "restauration" and messrooms, and society in Berlinto name one city only-is utterly lacking in that clan and refinement which is found, at least on the surface, in other capitals of Europe. - The Humani-
